Read Every Day (RED) March Challenge

At Parkland we really value reading, at school children are given plenty of opportunities to practise their reading skills, however we recognise that to make the most progress, children also need to read at home!

Therefore, we are launching our popular Read Every Day (RED) March challenge again. In the past, we have found the reading challenge really encourages many of our children to enjoy reading at home, as well as when they are in school, thus helping them develop their vocabulary and become more fluent, confident readers.

By the end of this week, you child/children would have received a Read Every Day (RED) booklet to record their reading. Children can read a book of their own choice, a magazine, a library book or their schoolbook.

All we ask is that you encourage your child/children to read as much as possible at home and then sign the booklet to indicate that they have read. This is a great opportunity for you and your child or anyone in the family to enjoy some quality time reading together.

We really hope you will encourage your child to read every day, and we look forward to seeing how many children complete this exciting challenge!

At the end of March, we ask that you send your child in with their signed booklet, so we can reward and celebrate their achievement. All those that complete the Read Every Day (RED) March challenge will be entered into a prize draw for a chance to win an exciting prize!

Happy reading!
